September 2017

Dear Parents/Guardians of the P.S. 196 Family:

Welcome back to school. I hope everyone had an enjoyable and restful summer. We are excited about the start of the school year and are ready to kick off what we are sure will be another great year at P.S. 196. All of us at the school – teachers, administrators, and support staff – are working hard to make sure that your child/children will have a successful year of learning and growth. However, we know that we can't do this alone. We need your support and involvement. The more involved you are in your child's education, the more successful your child will be here.

One of the keys to your child's success will be your ongoing involvement in our school community. Throughout the year, you will have opportunities to meet with your child's teacher, attend informational sessions on the teaching approaches and learning materials that we use, and to participate in workshops on topics of special interest that will be planned and announced throughout the school year.

I strongly urge you to join and participate in our Parents Association; it affords you an opportunity to meet other parents, make new friends and enlarge your parent and professional network. The PA is a valuable source of information and support and will offer you opportunities to contribute to our school community.

I invite you to attend the many events we host to celebrate our students' success. As your child's first and most important teacher, we need you to help us get to know your child so that we can offer him/her the best learning experience possible.

I am available to each and every one of you to provide information, answer questions, help you access resources for your child and to help you resolve issues that you or your child might encounter in school. Please feel free to come to school to speak with me or call at 718-263-9770 x. 1145, or email me at emaurer@schools.nyc.gov when you need my assistance. Please also stop by the office just to say hello.

All of us at P.S. 196 are very happy that you and your child are part of our family. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to help you and your child get settled into the new school year.

Best regards,

Ellen Maurer

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this handbook is to provide practical information that is useful for parents. Our goal is to keep channels of communication open, to inform, resolve issues and concerns of all families and to avoid misunderstandings—all in the best interests of our children. This booklet outlines the communication system currently in place, policies that aid communication between home and school, methods to address concerns, and where to go to get specific questions answered. It provides you with the tools needed to communicate successfully with our school community.

CAN WE TALK?

Remember that you and your child's teachers are a team working together for the good of your child. Look for opportunities to get to know your child's teachers. By establishing a comfortable rapport early, you will find it easier to work together if either of you have concerns about your child.

Throughout the school year, the Parents Association will carry out fundraisers and functions to benefit our school. Please work jointly with your child/children's teachers on these projects. Take the opportunity, if you can, to respond to class parents' requests for volunteers in the classroom.

Share good news. Let the teachers know if you see improvements or if something wonderful is happening at home or school. If there are changes in your family circumstances, e.g., a birth, a new job, illness, etc., let your child's classroom teachers know, preferably in writing. Our school guidance counselor, Tara Thiem is available to speak with you about such events, if you choose. It is also helpful to alert the school nurse, if anything is going on that might trigger some extra "I don't feel well" visits to her office.

If you have a classroom concern about homework, the content of a class project, or how your child seems to be doing academically or socially--don't ignore it. Talk with the teacher as soon as you can. Don't wait until a concern or a question becomes a major problem. Similarly, parents should expect to be contacted by the teacher if the teacher has concerns. A call from the teacher doesn't mean there's "trouble".

Scheduled Parent Teacher Conference dates (Thursday, November 16, 2017 and Thursday, March 15, 2018) are not meant to be the only time teachers are available to discuss your child's progress or any other concerns. The hours for Parent Teacher Conferences are 1:00p.m to 3:00 p.m. in the afternoon and 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. in the evening. There will also be two additional parent engagement evenings (5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.) – on Thursday, September 13, 2017 and on Wednesday, May 23, 2018. We encourage you to have ongoing open communication with your child's teacher. In fact, Wednesday mornings are designated for Parent Engagement (8:00 a.m. – 8:45 a.m.). This is the perfect opportunity to schedule an appointment. Make an appointment for a mutually convenient time. You can leave a telephone message for the teacher with the school secretary or parent coordinator and a note will be put into the teacher's mailbox, or send a note in your child's folder and the teacher will get back to you promptly. Most teachers also use email. If they do, they will give you that address. Remember, arrival and dismissal times are not convenient moments for extensive conferences with your child's teacher.

VISITS TO SCHOOL

Parents are welcome to come to school on many occasions throughout the year. e.g., Fun Fridays, special classroom activities, celebrations, concerts, assemblies and workshops. It is important on these occasions to share in your child's successes and achievements. During the 2017-2018 school year, parents will have the opportunity to visit their child's classroom during Open School Week (date TBD), more specific information will be given to parents in October. We are also continuing Family Fun Fridays this year. This once-a-month event will give you a chance to work on a fun activity in your child's classroom.

When you visit, be sure to carry identification to present to the security desk. Every person must sign in and out at the Security Desk. It is important not to interrupt instruction during the school day. If a parent would like to visit the classroom to speak with the teacher, please make an appointment with the teacher ahead of time. Parents and guardians are always welcome, but please do not walk through the building without an appointment or destination.

SCHOOL RECORDS

Parents are entitled to see their children's school records. If you are interested in doing so, contact the Parent Coordinator, Assistant Principal or School Guidance Counselor. We encourage you to use your NYC Schools Account to see your child's information. By going to nystudent.nyc, you can see your child's absences, grades, New York State exam scores, etc. If you have not signed up for an account, please contact Ms. Maurer or Ms. Koatz.

COMMUNICATIONS CONCERNING TEACHERS

If you have a concern about something in your child's classroom, please discuss it directly with the teacher. It is important for building strong bonds between families and classroom teachers to take this first step. If you are unable to resolve a classroom concern with the teacher, you can discuss it with the Administration or Parent Coordinator.

HEALTHY SNACKS

As conscientious parents and educators, we are all concerned about the foods our children eat. We are also concerned about the increasing rate of food allergies in children. Therefore, we ask parents to provide a healthy snack and drink on a daily basis for their own child. When the class is celebrating a birthday, the birthday child’s parent can provide nut-free treats such as cupcakes, brownies, cookies for the children to enjoy. For the health and safety of our children, we would also appreciate it if families don’t give out goodie bags during birthday celebrations. During holiday celebrations please make sure that you check food labels and ingredients to ensure that the products are nut free. Here are some suggested healthy snacks, any unsweetened fruit juice, water, pretzels, goldfish, crackers, vegetables, fresh fruit or fruit cups, raisins, Jell-o, yogurt, applesauce, cereal bars or rice cakes.

LUNCHROOM EXPECTATIONS

Students must follow the rules as listed below.

1. Students enter the cafeteria in an orderly and quiet manner and go immediately to their designated table and sit down.

5. After students have picked up their lunch they must return to their designated tables and remain seated until they have finished eating.

WHEN IS A CHILD TOO SICK FOR SCHOOL?

Keeping children home from school when they are sick prevents the spread of illnesses, so that all children in the class will be healthier and miss fewer school days. It is a parent's responsibility to call (718-263-9770) or email your child's classroom teacher or the Parent Coordinator (emaurer@schools.nyc.gov) to let us know if your child is not coming. Be sure to tell us your child's ailment or reason for not attending. Your child should be kept home from school if the exhibit any of the below symptoms:

1. Temperature of over 100F, your child should be fever free (without fever reducers) for 24 hours before returning to school.
2. Diarrhea, where more than one abnormally loose stool has occurred in the last 24 hours.

GUIDELINES FOR OUTDOOR PLAY IN COLD WEATHER

The current Health Department recommendation and Department of Education policy states, "Children benefit from vigorous exercise and should be given the opportunity to play outside whenever possible. Unless it is snowing or there is ice on the playground, low temperatures should not be a barrier to outside play, as long as children are appropriately dressed."

This is a reminder that you must send your children to school appropriately dressed for the cold weather (which could include warm shoes and socks, coats, and hats, scarves and mittens/gloves).

FIRE DRILLS AND EMERGENCY EVACUATION

Timely evacuation of the building would be crucial in the event of a fire or other emergency. Practice is required to ensure everyone in the building is safe in the event of an emergency. There are twelve safety drills throughout the school year.

During fire drills, students leave the building accompanied by their classroom or cluster teachers. It is extremely important for the safety of all students that children leave the building quietly and follow instructions given by the teacher. In the event of an emergency or drill, children need to follow the directions given by their teachers.

HOMWORK POLICY

Purposes

An Effective Homework Assignment May Have One, Several, or All of These Purposes

- builds upon and advances learning of skills taught in school
- provides the opportunity to pursue individual interests
- takes into account the specific needs of individual students
- reinforces school learning

Time Required For Homework

The amount of homework assigned takes into account the child's age and the needs of growing children, such as outdoor play and exercise, social and family recreation, and pursuit of hobbies, etc.

In grades K - 5 homework is usually assigned Monday through Friday, as follows:

- Grade K approximately a minimum of 20 minutes
- Grade 1 approximately a minimum of 20 minutes
- Grade 2 approximately a minimum of 30 minutes
- Grade 3 approximately a minimum of 45 minutes
- Grade 4 approximately a minimum of 45 minutes
- Grade 5 approximately a minimum of 1 hour

Children should read for approximately 30 minutes, or more, each evening, unless otherwise instructed by their teacher.

Adjusting to Homework Skills

Every effort should be made to ensure that assignments are clearly understood by students and that the skills necessary to complete the assignment are learned in school. It is equally important that students understand the purpose of the assignment.

Parents' Role: How Can You Help Your Child?

- Ask your child if she/he has homework
- Provide a comfortable, quiet place with adequate light where the child can work without interruption or distraction
- Plan other family activities "around the homework" so that the child can complete assignments on time
- Help your child budget his or her time so that homework is not an unreasonable burden-this is particularly true when there is a long-term assignment
- Evaluate the number of out-of-school activities so that your child will not suffer the pressures of over-organized living
- If your child needs some help, be patient. Review the directions with your child. If it seems appropriate, offer an example. DO NOT DO the work for your child
- If something doesn't seem right to you, check with the teacher. You and your child's teacher are partners in learning . . . and partners work together.

Common Core Learning Standards

The CCLS were developed by educators and other experts based on research and lessons learned from top-performing countries. The standards describe the skills and knowledge your children need to succeed in a rapidly changing world, including the ability to think creatively, solve real-world problems, make effective arguments, and engage in debates. You can find more information on the Common Core Learning Standards by visiting <http://engageny.org>

CURRICULUM

When visitors enter our building, they immediately recognize a school dedicated to children’s learning and exploration. Our hallways are always brimming with children’s artwork, and school work.

ReadyGEN

ReadyGEN is a collaborative custom development project between Pearson and the New York City Department of Education that is designed to equip all New York City public school teachers with the tools and practices necessary to meet the expectations of the Common Core Learning Standards in reading and writing. ReadyGEN, comprised of deliberately organized text sets and a routines-based instructional path for Grades K – 5, is designed to accelerate delivery of the new processes of the Common Core in elementary classrooms across New York City.

Mathematics

GOMath! is a focused program designed to meet the objectives and intent of the Common Core Learning Standards for Mathematics. The author team for GO Math! consists of mathematics educators and school district personnel and includes representation from the leadership of NCTM. The team’s balance between state and national perspectives as well as the team’s research expertise and practical experience makes GO Math! both accessible and mathematically sound.

GOMath! was specifically written to provide thorough coverage of the CCLS with an emphasis on depth of instruction. Particular attention was given to providing support for teachers as they transition to a focused, rigorous curriculum. These efforts are apparent in the ways lessons begin with context-based situations and progress toward more abstract problems. Students and teachers are supported as they advance from concrete to abstract content through the use of models and math talk prompts presented in the Student Editions, and sample questions provided in the Teachers’ Editions.

Passport to Social Studies

The NYCDOE K – 8: Passport to Social Studies program is a comprehensive instructional resource that integrates the Common Core Learning Standards (CCLS) and the New York State K – 8 Social Studies Framework to support strong social studies teaching and learning.

An effective social studies program allows students to make sense of the work in which they live, make connections between major ideas and their own lives, and see themselves as active members of a global community. While knowledge of content is very important, it is equally important to engage our students in historical thinking. This program challenges student to think like historians and encourages them to raise questions, think critically, consider many perspectives, and gather evidence in support of their interpretations through the practice of chronological processing, decision-making, and historical research and analysis. These real-world skills will serve student well as participating citizens of a democracy.

Passport to Social Studies was designed to support The New York City K – 8 Social Studies Scope & Sequence, each yearly course of study is organized around newly developed units of study, each guided by essential questions. Teachers can use the units of study to plan coherent instruction that considers relevant skills, practices, and knowledge objectives for deep historical understanding.

STEM – (Science, Technology, Engineering and Math)

STEM Education is a teaching approach that integrates the studies of Science, Technology, Engineering and Math. The key difference between traditional learning and STEM education is that STEM engages students in hands-on, real-world applications of these four areas of study. For example, a STEM project about the environment might include a combination of reading science textbook; researching facts online; experimenting both in a lab and outdoors using math theories and critical-thinking skills; working in teams to design a solution to a local water quality issue and presenting the solution to the class. The blended-learning approach makes learning more interesting, more interactive and more relevant to students.

STEM is also used to describe today’s renewed emphasis on science, math and technology starting in elementary school continuing through college. The goals are three fold:

1. To increase students’ confidence, capabilities and competence in STEM subjects.
2. To inspire more college students to select STEM-related courses and careers.
3. To improve the United States technological and scientific competitiveness.

GRADING POLICY

The following rubric is used by all teachers, to ensure that grading is cohesive and consistent across grades and curricular areas. This grading policy applies to all students, including students with disabilities and English language learners.

Level 4: Meeting Standards With Distinction – The student always demonstrates superior understanding of the content, concepts and skills for the learning standards and key ideas being assessed. For numerically graded tests, the student scores 95% or above.

Level 3: Meeting Standards – The student usually demonstrates an understanding of the content, concepts and skills for the learning standards and key ideas being assessed. For numerically graded tests, the student scores between 80% and 94%.

Level 2: Approaching Standards – The student sometimes demonstrates an understanding of the content, concepts and skills for the learning standards and key ideas being assessed. For numerically graded tests, the student scores between 65% and 79%.

Level 1: Below Standards – The student rarely demonstrates an understanding of the content, concepts and skills for the learning standards and key ideas being assessed. For numerically graded tests, the student scores below 65%.

Please note:

- All tasks and projects will be graded with a rubric, developed by both teachers and students, whenever possible.
- Neither attendance nor lateness may be factored into grades.
- All graded student work will be counted toward report card (or progress monitoring) grades.
- All grades will be communicated to students and parents/guardians in a timely manner. Communication may be through notation in the homework, the return of graded work, etc. Data notebooks (or folders) will also be sent home monthly, so that families may monitor their child's progress.
- Work that is handed in after a teacher-imposed deadline will be graded according to the following guidelines. Students will be given a one-day grace period. If the work is not handed in (or is still incomplete) on the second day (or later) after the deadline, the final grade will be lowered one full level.
- Overall grades will be communicated to families in accordance with the DOE report card calendar (November, March, June). Families will also receive a Progress Monitoring Report in January.
- June grades will account for work done during the third marking period, and should not be seen as cumulative.
